Jay, a Life Scout, is a member of Troop 201, sponsored by the Madrona School PTA. The award, presented to young Montgomery by the Rev. Roy Leeds, is the highest award a Scout can receive.

After-School Class Has 45 Girls Dancing About

Sixth-grade girls at Howland and Wood School are staying after school for an extra class one day a week—and pleading for permission to do so.

The reason is an extra-curricular opportunity to study modern dance with Miss Mary Lee Lyman, a sixth-grade teacher.

When the attractive young teacher, who is putting in her first professional stint this year, first offered to give

Area Youths To Play in Band Battle

Torrance youths to be heard in auditions for the 1965 Battle of the Bands Saturday at Compton College include Greg Bouette, Fred Peery, Dave Stillwell and Gene Meese.

Teenagers selected for further competition from tryouts this weekend will advance to preliminary contests scheduled in March and April. Finals for the Battle of the Bands are slated June 25 at the Hollywood Bowl.

This is the sixth renewal of the contest, which is sponsored by the County of Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation.

the lessons last month she expected six or eight girls to show up. Instead, her entire class of girls turned out for the first Monday session.

Soon sixth-grade girls in another class asked to be included and within three weeks the class had grown to 45.

Each Monday the capricious sixth-graders meet in the cafeteria to do limbering up exercises. After they get familiar with movement they will do their own choreography as well.

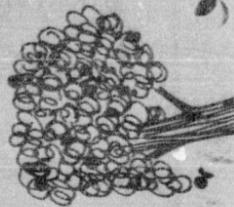

Why did an elementary school teacher offer to teach an extra class after her day's work? "I love the dance as a form of art," Miss Lyman says, "and I'd like to see other girls learn to appreciate as well as participate in dancing." A student of modern dance for eight years, Miss Lyman studied in Chicago and held a dance scholarship at the University of Michigan Fine Arts Camp at Interlocken.

Do the girls plan to put on any demonstrations in the future? "If we get good enough we might participate in a Spring festival or perform for the PTA; but exhibitions would be incidental," Miss Lyman said. "Our goal is just to learn dancing for dancing's sake."
